Appeal Granted Fond Mother In Bad Check Case

LANSING (AP)—A Detroit woman who admitted taking $19,000 from her employer mainly to further the movie ambitions of her 17-year-old daughter has been granted leave to appeal her sentence on a bad check charge.

The State Supreme Court took the action yesterday in the case of Mrs. Beatrice Hollingsworth. Mrs. Hollingsworth was sentenced Feb. 20 to 5 to 14 years in prison. But the high state court said Detroit Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide erred in not permitting her to change her plea from guilty to innocent.

Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien argued that an embezzlement charge had been withdrawn in return for the woman's plea to the lesser bad check charge. She admitted taking the money from the Kenneth Anderson Co.

Mrs. Hollingsworth's daughter, Jill, who was in Hollywood at the time, now is a member of the Ken Murray television troupe and still hopes to get a movie role.

Crazed Tinsmith Butchers Family

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP)—A mad tinsmith butchered and shot to death seven and possibly eight members of his family and then killed himself yesterday in a seven-hour slaughter.

Peter Akulonis, 39, took his own life last night as police closed in on him outside his home in neighboring Methuen.

During the death spree, Akulonis used a carpenter's ax to kill his wife Madeline Akulonis, 32; son Michael, 6; widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Akulonis, 72; brother Alphonse, 32; and two nephews, James, 5, and Paul, 2, both sons of Alphonse.

He killed his brother Raymond, 37, with a blast from a 22-caliber rifle before turning the gun on himself. Another son is missing and feared to be another victim. Akulonis took the boy out of school early in the afternoon.

Police said Akulonis apparently planned the wholesale murders. They said his suicide may have saved the lives of several other relatives living nearby.

Wind Takes $217,000 Out The Window, But Officer Gets It Down

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A royal check for $217,000 lay on the desk of Mrs. Jeannette Darnall, secretary for the BBC Music Publishers Company yesterday. Suddenly a strong gust of wind carried it right off the desk and out the window.

The horrified Mrs. Darnall watched the check flutter across the street and come to rest on the third floor ledge of a building opposite.

Then she started throwing things—paper clips, her shoe, even a couple of golf balls that happened to be in the office. But she was as wild as a rookie pitcher.

Then a passing policeman, attracted by the gathering crowd, came to the rescue. Reaching out a nearby window with a towel attached to a pole, he succeeded in "trout casting" the check. Once dislodged, it fell into the eager hands of a company employee on the street below while the crowd cheered its approval.

Ferries Remain Idle At Straits; Mediator Working On Dispute

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Some 400 cars and trucks were stranded today as State Labor Board mediators sought to settle a dispute involving 200 crewmen of state-owned ferries.

Transportation across the Straits of Mackinac was at a standstill.

In St. Ignace, 300 vehicles were without transportation over the five-mile water route to Mackinac City.

Ruling Protested
State labor mediator Jerry Ford and crew members met with State Highway Department officials.

here last night in an unsuccessful effort to reach a solution to the dispute involving a Coast Guard ruling on the size of crews necessary to man state operated ferries.

The Coast Guard has demanded that the two state-operated ferries carry two crews on all trips between the upper and lower peninsulas. The ruling means that crew members would work a 16-hour day to collect eight hours pay.

Crew members on the ferry City of Petoskey walked off their jobs Monday in protest over the ruling. State ferry service came to a complete halt Tuesday night when the City of Munising crewmen also left.

No More Trips
Some 60 cars were carried across the Straits yesterday by a railroad operated ferry. But state officials said this was only an emergency measure and there was no assurance that the railroad ferry could make any more trips.

The Mediation Board certified the dispute yesterday and assigned Ford to seek a solution.

Ford said he would confer with board officials in Lansing today before resuming negotiations to settle the dispute.

Flint Policemen Quit, Want Raise

FLINT (AP)—The City Commission in a special session tonight will attempt to keep most of the Flint police force from quitting.

Fifty of Flint's 75 patrolmen were reported ready to resign unless more pay is offered immediately.

City Manager Herman Young heard the policemen's case at a grievance session last night. He told them he could do nothing about granting a pay raise and that they would have to take it up with the City Commission.

Twenty-five patrolmen already have submitted resignations. The policemen are demanding a blanket pay raise of $500 a year. Those with two years service now get $4,048 a year for a 44 hour week. They also are demanding a 40 hour week.

The City Commission last Monday night rejected a proposed pay increase of 10 percent on the ground no funds were available. At its session tonight it will consider ways of raising additional funds before the start of the new fiscal year July 1.

Police Chief's Car
Kills Man In Chase
Near Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—An elderly pedestrian was killed and another injured last night while Battle Creek Township police chief Donald Ward was chasing a traffic violator.

Lewis H. Brown, 72, was killed instantly. His companion, Tim Erskin, 38, suffered head cuts.

Both were struck by Chief Ward's car during the chase.

State police of the Battle Creek post said Chief Ward was patrolling on US-12 just outside the city when he spotted a motorist pulling onto the highway without heeding a stop sign.

Chief Ward took after the violator and was unable to avoid hitting Brown and Erskin, who he said started across the highway to a beer store.

The traffic violator was not apprehended.

Traffic Mishaps Kill
1,727 In Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP)—The final revised figures for 1952 showed a total of 1,727 persons killed and 49,110 injured in 160,829 traffic accidents in Michigan last year, State Police said today.

The death toll was the fifth largest on record. The highest death toll was recorded in 1937 when 2,175 died in traffic accidents. The injury total set a new high for the fifth consecutive year.

Highway Chief Not Sold On Straits Bridge

LANSING (AP)—Backers of the Straits of Mackinac bridge gathered legislative strength yesterday for the proposal that the state guarantee up to $500,000 a year for maintenance of the span.

But State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, whose department would furnish the funds, was still skeptical and favored continuation of the ferry system.

Can't Sell Bonds
Additional meetings with the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee were planned today by Rep. Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie, former speaker of the state House of Representatives, and Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority.

Knox flew back from Washington and Brown came up from Detroit in an effort to convince the lawmakers that the $90,000,000 bridge bonds can not be sold unless the state shows faith in the project by guaranteeing at least the upkeep.

"We're facing a marketing problem of making the bonds attractive," Brown told a meeting of key legislators last night. "There is no doubt about the security of the investment."

Cash Not Needed
Brown emphasized that the $500,000 a year asked from the state would not be used to pay the principal or interest of the bonds but only for upkeep of the structure. No immediate cash will be needed, he stressed since the first maintenance costs probably won't come until 1957, after the bridge is built.

There were opponents to the support proposal among the group of more than a dozen influential legislators that met with the bridge authority last night. But some indicated they expected opposition when the matter of the state's contribution came before

House Sails Into 100 Bills; Payroll Tax Sets Off Sparks

LANSING (AP)—The House Republican caucus decided today to defer a scheduled vote on the $40,000,000 payroll tax bill until next Tuesday.

At the same time, the closed GOP meeting agreed to kill bills to remodel the state inheritance tax into gift and estate taxes.

The payroll tax bill is exempt from the Friday deadline for action on bills in their house of origin.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill providing for speed limits on Michigan Roads of 65 miles per hour in daytime and 55 at night.

Moved up for a final vote was a bill abolishing the office of coroner and substituting trained medical examiners. Sponsors had to trim it drastically to head off defeat and were not sure they had succeeded.

They agreed to let the law be permissive only as counties desired and to eliminate the proposed state medical examiner to supervise the system.

Another bill ready for a vote would require cities and villages to bear half the cost for residents committed to state mental hospitals. The counties now pay for the first year and the state thereafter.

In a brief session yesterday, the House killed off four bills.

Defeated on final passage were bills to assess state lands in southern counties half of the current valuation and pay the tax to local units out of the state general fund, to require licenses for fishing in the Great Lakes and to allow school boards to pay part or all of hospitalization premiums for employees.

Speed Limit Bill Held
A bill which would have permitted the setting of speed limits on state highways was sent back to committee on a voice vote.

Among measures passed by the House were those to:

Authorize cities and villages to acquire Federal housing projects.

Issue special license plates to radio amateurs bearing their call letters.

Permit the exclusion of incorrigibles from the boys vocational school.

Encourage GI and FHA home loans by exempting out-of-state corporations which invest money in Michigan loans from part of the corporation franchise fee.

Encourage school building by easing the procedure for school board refunding of outstanding indebtedness.

Advanced for final votes before Friday with preliminary approval were bills to require that all children under 12 not with their parents be off the streets between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., and all children under 16 from midnight to 6 a. m., to sell the Cadillac Square Building in Detroit and to provide for the election of a permanent chief justice of the state supreme court.

Kremlin Bosses Invited To Help Disarm World

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower challenged Russia's new leaders today to practice the peace they preach by agreeing to end the cold war, disarm the world and invest the savings in a global fund to war on "the brute forces of poverty and need."

The alternative, he said, is at worst atomic war and at best unending fear which finds "humanity hanging from a cross of iron."

"Is there no other way the world may live?" Eisenhower asked.

"What is the Soviet Union ready to do?"

"The United States is ready to assume its just part."

New Era Begins
The Eisenhower plan—sure to create a sensation at this stage of east-west relations—was laid down in the President's first full dress speech on foreign policy since he took office in January. It was delivered before the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) and broadcast by all radio and television national hook-ups.

The President said that if Russia is willing to take the preliminary steps—including independence for the east European satellites—this country would agree to work toward a world disarmament plan which would ban atomic weapons.

An "era ended with the death of Joseph Stalin," he declared, and the new leadership in Moscow like the rest of the world, has opportunity "to turn the black tide of events."

Five Steps Suggested
The U. S., he went on, is determined to try to "seize this chance" and if it fails the world "need be divided no longer in its clear knowledge of who has condemned mankind to this fate."

The President listed these specific steps:

1. Conclusion of an "honorable

State Fair Bribe Taker Sentenced

DETROIT (AP)—Sidney Phillips, former president of the Michigan State Fair board of managers, was on two years' probation today on a bribery charge.

Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis imposed the sentence on Phillips yesterday and also fined him $500.

Phillips, a Charlotte stock farmer, was convicted April 2 of accepting a $300 bribe from Harry Bernstein, who goes by the name of Al Wagner in show business.

Bernstein testified that he paid the money to Phillips during the 1950 fair for moving his freak show from a bad location to a more favorable spot on the air's midway.

The bribe charge was brought as a result of a one-man grand jury investigation of fair activities by Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara. Phillips resigned from the fair board three days after a warrant was issued against him Jan. 4, 1952.

Phillips admitted he received the money from Bernstein. But he contended it was given him to entertain fair board members and that he put some of his own money with it for the same purpose.

Bucket Brigade Saves Boy In Car

PONTIAC (AP)—A bucket brigade led by a Clarkston, Mich. man saved the life of a teenager trapped in a car which struck a culvert and burst into flames last night on Ortonville road, 14 miles northwest of here.

Glenn A. Ridgway, 56, and an unidentified motorist doused the blaze by rushing with buckets of water from a nearby creek.

They then freed William C. McDermott Jr., 16, of Clarkston, who was trapped in the car believed driven by Robert Summers, 18, of the same village. Summers was thrown clear.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the youths' car apparently struck one side of the culvert, bounced across the road into the culvert's other side, flipped to a complete somersault and landed on its wheels.

Ridgway, a Pontiac factory worker, was watching television in his nearby home when he heard the crash. He raced to the scene with two empty buckets, and was joined by the motorist in fighting the blaze.

Soviets Tighten Grip On Eastern Germany While Preaching Unity

By BRACK CURRY
BONN, Germany (AP)—Western Allied officials say that despite the new Soviet campaign for a four-power conference to reunify Germany, the Russians are pushing as hard as ever for a fully Bolshevik East Germany with its own powerful Red army.

The top East German Communist, Deputy Premier and party secretary General Walter Ulbricht, made big headlines in the Red press yesterday with his statement that Moscow wants to talk reunification with the United States, France and Britain.

Allied officials said today, however, that there is not the slightest sign in East Germany that the Russians expect an early agreement with the West on Germany or intend to relax their grip on the 18 million East Germans.

They said the Russians are acting as if long-range Soviet policy in Germany is unchanged—to nail down a Communist satellite regime in East Germany and thus keep Soviet power entrenched in Europe as far west as the Elbe River.

The state-directed rural revolution, the purging of anti-Communists from political and cultural groups, the terror campaign against the church, the expansion of the Communist "people's army"—all these are moving ahead in East Germany, these officials said.

An the Kremlin's propaganda organization still is pouring out "hate the West" broadcasts and newspaper stories to the East German population.

Speeding Solon Gets His Trial

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Michigan congressman Clare Hoffman will get that speeding charge hearing he demanded next Tuesday morning (9 a. m.).

The time was agreed upon after Hoffman's office in Washington called Magistrate Paul Ottinger here yesterday.

Hoffman was stopped by a state trooper near here two weeks ago. The officer said he was driving 65 or 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

After posting $26.45 collateral, the Michigan Republican's congressional immunity was invoked and the charge was dismissed.

Later, however, Hoffman charged that he was pulled in for "exercising my constitutional right of free speech" to the trooper. He made a speech in the House yesterday attacking Maryland's handling of such cases and said he would introduce a bill to correct the situation.

But he declined to say, in answer to a question by Rep. Karsten (D-Mo.), whether he was exceeding the speed limit.

"That," said Hoffman, "I shall tell the magistrate if I am a witness."

DETROIT (AP)—The Kaiser Manufacturing Corp., a subsidiary of Kaiser-Frazer Corp., has been awarded an additional $2,000,000 contract for the production of land mines. Congressmen Try To Force Vote On Income Tax Slash

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-five House members have joined in an attempt to force a vote on a bill to reduce income tax rates 10 percent on July 1—six months ahead of the date now scheduled.

If they can get 193 colleagues to join them, they will succeed. They are members who, up to today, had signed a petition to bypass the House Rules Committee and bring the tax cut bill to the House floor despite opposition of the GOP House leadership. The rules group has bottled up the bill since mid-February, when the ways and means committee approved it.

Without rules committee clearance, the bill cannot now come before the House except under procedure leaving it wide open to changes. Its backers don't want to run that risk and have resorted to a petition to circumvent the rules group and force House consideration under procedure barring amendments.

To be effective, such a petition requires 218 signatures, a majority of the full House membership.

Some Republican members claim their leaders are exerting pressure to prevent GOP members from signing.

Board Supports Bridge Project

Delta County Board of Supervisors, meeting last night in the county courthouse, sent telegrams to four state officials urging state maintenance of the proposed Straits bridge.

The telegram, sent to Rep. Einar Erlandson, to Senator William Ellsworth, to Charles Ziegler, state highway commissioner, and to Governor G. Mennen Williams, read as follows:

"The Delta County Board of Supervisors in session April 15, 1953 unanimously adopted a resolution requesting you to act favorably in regard to maintenance appropriation of proposed Straits bridge."

Also last night, County Clerk William E. Butler read the Board a letter from H. J. Henrikson, city manager and assessor of Gladstone, saying it was the Gladstone city attorney's opinion that "the city of Gladstone shall not assess and the county and schools cannot collect the 15 mills on the (Delta Coal and Dock) property until authorized to do so by the state Tax Commission."

Assessed At $90,970

Delta Coal and Dock has appealed the tax assessment on its property to the Michigan Tax Commission, which asked Gladstone not to spread taxes against the present assessed value of the property pending an investigation.

The Board of Supervisors' equalization committee had taken the position that Gladstone had to keep the Delta Coal and Dock property on its tax rolls and could not remove it temporarily pending the state investigation. According to Henrikson, the property is assessed at $90,970 including the 10 per cent increase required by resolution of the Board of Supervisors at its October 1952 meeting.

Guy W. Knutson, finance committee chairman, presented the committee's report to the Board, which accepted the committee's entire list of recommendations, as follows:

OK Park Building
The Board decided to allocate $4,000.00 to Delta County Road Commission to begin work on a building for toilet facilities at Pioneer Trail Park. The Board said the cost of the building should not exceed $10,000 and said it would include the balance in its 1954 budget.

In regard to a request from Delta County Tourist Guide for a contribution of $140 for the 1953 guide, the Board will leave its contribution at the $100 already provided in its budget.

The Board authorized the county clerk to replace an old typewriter with a new one to cost not over $175. The Board put off until next year a request by clerk William Butler to replace an old adding machine with a new one.

The Board decided to continue to pay per diem expenses of visiting Circuit Court judges from county funds. Judge Glenn W. Jackson had offered to pay such since not every county on his circuit had agreed to pay them.

Increase Deputy Pay
The Board honored a request from County Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis for extra stationery and supplies by allocating him $100 from its contingent fund.

The pay of a special deputy in Sheriff William A. Miron's office, who works 12 hours one night each week, was increased from $6 a night to $8 by the Board.

L. J. Jacobs, chairman of the building and grounds committee, told the Board a bid of $472 f. o. b. Escanaba to supply 56 document files for the probate judges' office had been accepted from the Office Service Co., Marquette. Jacobs said only this company could supply the type file wanted.

Chairman of the Board Harold Gustafson named Charles Sedenquist, Wells, to be the equalization committee.

Chairman Gustafson reported on his trip this winter to a meeting of the Michigan Association of Supervisors in Lansing. He tried to get the association to adopt a resolution urging authorization of county manager government. Though the resolutions committee sent the Delta County resolution to the floor with an adverse report, Gustafson felt he made progress.

"We have I might say our foot in the door," he told the Board.

He said the Association decided to allow a year for study of the resolution, and final vote would be in 1954.

County Clerk Butler asked the board to authorize him to keep an index for the records of the Board's minutes, as a help in future years. The Board took it under consideration.

Journal Story Tells Of Press Employees' Efforts To Buy Paper

By JOHN McLEAN
Of The Journal Staff

ESCANABA, Mich.—A climax is approaching in the long struggle of the 48 employees of the Escanaba Daily Press to get possession of the paper for which many of them have worked for decades.

The employees have offered to buy the paper for $275,000. So far their offer has not been acted upon. But they hope that results will come from a meeting soon with the Escanaba board of education and James E. Frost, executor of the estate of John P. Norton, founder of the newspaper.

Norton died July 12, 1950, leaving almost all of his estate, valued at close to $500,000, to the Escanaba board of education "for the purpose of aiding worthy graduates of the public schools of the city of Escanaba in continuing their education at some college, university or higher institution of learning."

Relatives Protested
The grant, added to $70,000 in similar grants that the school board already has, offers almost unlimited access to college for Escanaba high school graduates.

"We will be a high school unique in the country in the amount of school money available," said John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools.

However, very little Norton money has been made available for scholarships. And no one is sure just who controls the newspaper now.

Difficulties started soon after Norton's death. Two of his brothers, Charles L. and Mack L. Norton of Cassopolis, Mich., and a nephew, Thomas Norton, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., sought to invalidate the will on the ground that Norton was mentally incompetent when he signed it Jan. 5, 1950. That was just a month after the death of his wife, Anna, who had been a teacher in Delta county schools. The couple had no children.

Will Was Ruled Valid
After a month long trial, a circuit court jury found the will valid on May 19, 1951. When the relatives threatened to appeal, however, the estate settled with them for $3,000. Another threat of litigation by relatives of Mrs. Norton also was headed off by a settlement.

What employees hope is the last legal obstacle was cleared away last week, when the estate settled a long suit for accounting of the estate against Frank and George Lindenthal, operators of radio station WDBC at Escanaba. Under the settlement, the estate receives $78,000 for 61 shares in the station which Norton had held. Norton had begun the case before his death.

Employees have formed a corporation called the Escanaba Daily Press Co. Kenneth L. Gunderman, editor of the paper, is president.

A stock plan similar to that under which employees own 55% of The Milwaukee Journal is being worked out. Employees would hold units representing stock held in treasury. The units must be surrendered when an employee leaves the paper, thus insuring that control remains with employees.

Plan to Pay $100,000
The employees' plan is to pay $100,000 in cash, then receive a $175,000 mortgage from the school board. They would next pay $10,000 a year for five years, plus interest, and then pay the entire balance of $125,000.

They believe they can raise the first $100,000 through an equity of about $60,000 that the employees have in their pension fund, and through private savings and mortgages of personal property. They hope to meet the yearly payments and interest for the next five years out of profits. Profits before taxes were about $40,000 in 1951.

2011 and $47,000 in 1952, according to Gunderman.

(Editor's Note: The profit figures quoted here were before federal taxes, which are 30% of the first $25,000 of profits and 52% of profits over $25,000.)

If at the end of five years they have achieved a $150,000 equity, the employees believe they will have no trouble financing the $125,000 they will then owe the school board.

Legality Questioned
The big question on the proposed deal is whether the school board would receive more money from a different buyer, perhaps by asking for bids, than it would from the employees. Another is whether the proposed procedure is legal.

Under the Norton will, Frost is empowered, but not directed, to sell any or all of Norton's estate before handing it over to the school board. However, it would appear that he would not likely make a sale, especially one involving a mortgage, without school board approval.

The school board, on the other hand, would be on a questionable legal ground if it received the paper and ran it for any length of time, Lemmer said. He also said this would be "very unwise."

The employees, then, must sell both Frost and the school board on their proposition. They are basing part of their argument on the contention that Norton had intended that the employees should receive the paper.

They have cited correspondence in which Norton said that he wanted to leave the paper "as a sort of monument, operated by a staff of employees as loyal and efficient as will be found in any small town newspaper in America."

Speech Contest Winners Named

Eleven Escanaba High School students, including one student from the Junior High School, were placed winners in the local forensic contest held at the Senior High School last night. These finalists will present their dramatic readings at the District Festival at Menominee Friday, April 17.

Seven different types of reading will be presented by these students. Cynthia Sogard will give "The Age of Reason" in oratorical declamation, Mary Larson will present "The White Cliffs" in the dramatic monologue group, "Very Busy Woman," dramatic dialogue, will be given by Ruth Haven, while Nancy Farrell will present an original story, "Peace and Walls."

Three students will represent Escanaba in lyric poetry readings. They are Maxine Bernstein giving "Patterns," Sharon Bennett presenting "Lincoln," and Lynette Herro who will give, "The Great Lover."

A narrative poetry reading will be presented by Charles Bellefeuille. It is "Gunga Din." Three humorous readings will be given by Escanaba students at the contest. They are "From Pillar to Post" by Gary Grenholm, "The Show Must Go On—On—and On" given by Robert Peterson, and "The Tooth, the Whole Tooth, and Nothing but the Tooth" presented by Harriet Williams.

The contest will be held at the Bleach Auditorium, and it will begin at 8:45 a. m. and will continue throughout the day. The evaluator system of judging is to be used. John Rostead, dramatic coach, will accompany them to Menominee.

Menominee County Studies Needs For New Classrooms

MENOMINEE — To modernize the Menominee County school plant system, 96 classrooms for 2-492 students would be needed to relieve over-crowding, eliminate obsolete buildings and provide for the normal increase in enrollments. The cost would be $2,814,700.

This was the conclusion of the School Building Committee of the Menominee County Area Study group which Tuesday night submitted a report on a school plant survey it has been conducting for the past several months. The committee is headed by Nicholas Gutekunst of Holmes Township.

The report was made at the Area Study Group's April meeting held in the Carney school and attended by Roland M. Strolle, Lansing, chief of the Area Study and School Facilities division of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Strolle is a former Menominee High School principal and served also as superintendent of the Stephenson and Spalding township school districts.

About 40 persons from the county's 14 townships attended last night's meeting and heard Strolle review the Area Study program in the state. He said activities in other counties for consideration for incorporation into the Menominee study program. Among the suggestions was a curriculum workshop for teachers and parents, which was taken under advisement.

It was proposed an all-day conference, preferably on a Saturday, be held to discuss school curriculum in the light of present-day trends.

Erling Arntzen Awarded Contract For New School

MENOMINEE—Award of contracts totaling $65,404 for construction of an elementary school building by St. Ann's Catholic Church on church property at 1406-10th Avenue was announced by Rev. Fr. Francis Geynet, pastor of the church. Work on the new building will begin within a short time and completion is scheduled for Sept. 1.

The general contract was awarded to Erling Arntzen, Escanaba contractor, for $48,986. Arntzen's low bid was $12 under the second low submitted by the Kaysner Construction Company of Sault Ste. Marie.

Exore Deschaine, Menominee, was awarded the combined heating and plumbing contract on a bid of $13,300, and the Interstate Electric Company, Menominee, was awarded the contract for electrical work on a bid of $3,118.

The new building will provide two classrooms and a large social room with kitchen facilities. This room may be converted into four classrooms as may be needed.

Balmoral Castle is situated on the eastern slopes of the Scottish Highlands on the River Dee.

Red Cross Drive To Continue In April

The Red Cross 1953 membership drive has been extended through April 30, Delta County Chapter announced this morning. Total turned in to date in Delta County is $11,360.23, the chapter said. County quota is $19,937.

The chapter received a letter from the midwestern area office in St. Louis, enclosing a letter from President Eisenhower which asked an extension of time for the drive in Washington, D. C.

The area office said so many similar requests have been received throughout the United States that the drive's close has been postponed. The drive was originally set to end March 31.

In Delta County many townships have still not turned their funds in, the county chapter

Milk Shipments To Marquette Are Suspended

ROCK—Farmers in the Marquette County milkshed discontinued the shipment of milk to four Marquette County dairies this morning in protest against a price reduction proposed by the dairies.

The four dairies affected are Bancroft, Hillcrest, Northern and Gauthiers. The dairies proposed a reduction in the price of milk from $4.50 per cwt to about $3.70 per cwt, pegging milk prices to the day to day price of cheddar cheese fixed at Plymouth, Wis.

Roy T. Jacks, Rock, vice president of the Upper Peninsula Milk Producers Association, said this morning that about 325 producers affiliated with the association have suspended shipments to the dairies. In addition to the farmers in Marquette County, the association includes farmers in Delta County, Luce and Mackinac Counties that comprise the Marquette milkshed.

Representatives of the producers were scheduled to confer with representatives of at least one of the dairies this afternoon at the office of Michael DeFant, Negaunee attorney, in an effort to find a basis for settlement of the dispute.

The producers normally market about 900 cans of milk daily, or 9,000 gallons, but the quantity of milk is now increasing as the cows are out on pasture.

Jacks said that some of the milk is being diverted to cheese factories but the disposition of the remainder has not yet been determined. He indicated that many farmers probably will churn the cream into butter.

Theisen-Clemens Will Hold Dealer Meeting Tonight

The Theisen-Clemens Company will hold its 1953 annual spring sales meeting for its dealers and accounts in Escanaba-Gladstone and the surrounding Upper Peninsula area this evening in the banquet room of the Sherman Hotel, Escanaba.

Highlights of the program will be talks given by Cities Service Oil Company executives, J. T. McDowell, Cleveland Regional Manager and T. L. Jenkins, Chief Lubrication Engineer. Mr. McDowell will discuss the supplier assistance program for 1953 and in particular the new advertising and sales promotion program Cities Service offers, to aid in increasing retail sales. Mr. Jenkins will discuss with film and sound slides the technical aspects of the company's products.

Pointing up the remarks of the guest speaker will be general product and information display. A buffet lunch will be served following the meeting which will begin promptly at 8.

Approximately 80 guests are expected.

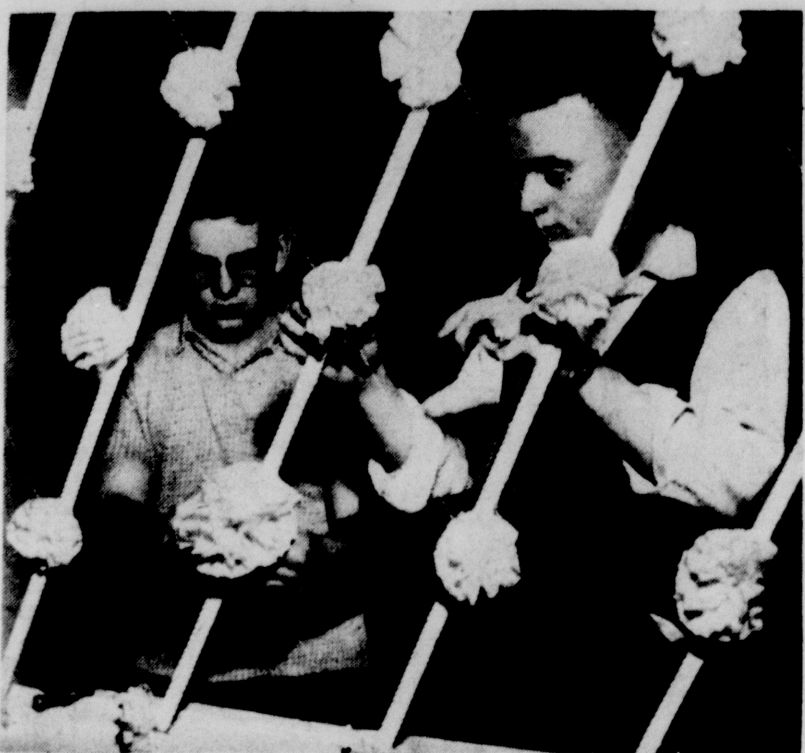

Objections Delay Recommended Plat

The Escanaba Planning Commission will give further consideration to a street and alley plat for an area south and west of Royce Park before making a recommendation to the City Council, according to Robert Clayton, city planning director.

At a meeting of the Planning Commission's sub-division committee last night, 14 of the 27 property owners in the area appeared. The property owners present objected to the plat because it contained alleyways and said they would agree to it only if the alleys were eliminated.

Clayton today said the city's engineering department holds that alleys are necessary because of the location of utilities there. Further consideration will be given before any recommendation is made to the City Council, Clayton added.

Years ago a citizen of the Netherlands who could not maintain his section of the dikes, was required to give up his farm to one who could.

Dr. Petersen, Detroit, Dies

Dr. William Scott Petersen, of 12723 Ilene, Detroit, member of a widely known Escanaba family, died at 10:30 last night in Ford hospital, following a heart attack with which he was stricken Tuesday night. He was 55.

Dr. Petersen, who had practiced dentistry in Detroit since 1926, was born in Marinette, July 30, 1897, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emil Petersen, and he came to Escanaba with his parents as a child. He was graduated from Escanaba High School and received his degree from the University of Michigan.

He was a member of the Westlawn Methodist Church of Detroit and of Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., Escanaba.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy, one son, Jim, and one daughter, Joan, who are twins and two sisters, Mrs. Leonard Stade and Miss Lillian V. Petersen, and one brother, George A. Petersen, of Escanaba.

Mrs. Stade left for Detroit last night following word of his critical condition.

Hulbert Man Nabbed For Tippy Driving

Michigan State Police yesterday arrested Mennen Cousineau, 45, Hulbert, on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and lodged him in county jail overnight.

Troopers arrested the Hulbert man, who came to Delta County three days ago for the smelt fishing, on US-241 within Gladstone city limits. They charged him also with driving while his chauffeur's license was suspended.

Judge Henry Ranguette of Escanaba fined Cousineau $50 and assessed him $5 costs this morning on the drunk driving charge. On the charges of driving while his license was suspended, Judge Ranguette fined Cousineau $10 and assessed him $5 costs, also giving him two days in jail mandatory under state law.

Bridge Outlook More Favorable

(Special to The Daily Press)

LANSING — Upper Peninsula legislators favorable toward the proposed Straits of Mackinac bridge today appeared more hopeful following a meeting last night with Prentiss M. Brown, Bridge Authority chairman, and bond brokers.

Rep. Einar E. Erlandsen of Escanaba expressed confidence that as the result of additional information supplied to legislators the state's participation in assuring funds for maintenance of the bridge will be forthcoming, when required.

No state appropriation will be required until the bridge is constructed and open to traffic, the legislators were advised.

Maintenance cost the first year is estimated at $230,000 and this would increase slightly to the sixth or seventh year after the bridge is built when it would reach a maximum of $416,000, according to information supplied by the Bridge Authority. This maintenance figure would include the cost of insurance on the structure.

Brown told the legislators that when the bridge is constructed the state may then sell its ferries and docks at the Straits "which would net the state several million dollars." This would pay the maintenance cost for a number of years, Brown added.

Senators William Ellsworth of St. Ignace, Leo Roy of Houghton and Joseph Cloon of Wakefield attended the meeting, and Lt. Gov. Reid left the meeting with the statement that he believes the state should go forward in cooperation with the Bridge Authority to finance the maintenance of the proposed span.

DECORATIONS — Escanaba High School students put the finishing touches on decorations for the Senior Ball to be held Friday night at the high school gymnasium. Marquette Plans School Bond Issue Election May 18

MARQUETTE — Marquette voters will go to the polls Monday, May 18, to decide a proposed $400,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new elementary school on the north side of town.

Decision to hold the special school election was taken by the board of education at its regular monthly meeting yesterday.

If approved by the voters, the $400,000 would be raised by a six-mill tax increase.

The new school would occupy a site at the corner of Fair Avenue (extended) and Northrup Street, lying north of Fair Avenue proper. It would accommodate pupils in grades kindergarten through sixth.

The board pointed out that the six mills proposed can be raised only for the payment of principal and interest on bonds voted subsequent to May 1, 1953.

A board member explained that the board felt it necessary to hold the election at this time in view of the fact that last year the board was forced to purchase a private residence to accommodate the increased kindergarten membership.

"The board now is faced with the necessity of purchasing another residential unit to accommodate further increased membership next September," he said.

"The board considers it is neither good business nor good educational practice to use old residences for school rooms."

Two Cars Collide In Gladstone Yesterday

GLADSTONE — Two cars received minor damage when they collided last night in Gladstone at the intersection of Sixth St. and Delta Ave., said Gladstone city police.

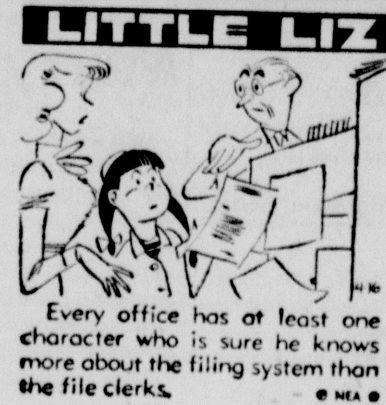

Mrs. Albert Kurth, 504 Superior Ave., Gladstone, was driving north on Sixth St. and halted at the stop sign before crossing Delta Ave., police said. She started out, failing to see U. L. Xegts, 1324 Washington Ave., Escanaba, driving west on Delta.

The right front of Mrs. Kurth's car and the left front of Xegts' car were damaged.

Police ticketed Mrs. Kurth for driving without an operator's license.

Walkout Of Straits Seamen Points Need For Bridge Project

THE walkout of seamen employed on the Straits of Mackinac ferries points to one of the weaknesses of the ferry system as a means of moving traffic between the two peninsulas of Michigan. Because of the walkout, it is impossible to drive from Upper Michigan to Lower Michigan, unless one is willing to take the long route around the lake via Chicago.

The answer to this and other problems arising from the ferry operation is the construction of the Straits of Mackinac bridge. And that project depends now upon the willingness of the State Legislature to vote the funds needed for maintenance purposes, a maximum of a half million dollars a year.

Write your state senator, Sen. Wm. A. Ellsworth, and pledge your support in his fight for legislative funds for the bridge project. And also write your state representative, Rep. Einar Erlundsen from Delta County, and Rep. Wood from Schoolcraft County, on the same subject. Better yet, telegraph your position on this important project!

The apparent cause of the seamen walkout on the ferries is a change in regulations which requires the men to remain aboard 16 hours a day, working the second eight only in emergency cases. The grievance certainly seems to be completely justified. The men logically want additional pay for the additional time that they are required aboard.

But justified or not, the ferries are tied up and no traffic can move between the two peninsulas.

We need that bridge and we need it as fast as it can be provided. The only thing that is holding up the go-ahead sign is the matter of $500,000 a year in maintenance funds for the bridge. If the state Legislature votes that money, the bonds will be sold and the project will move forward.

OTHER STATES ACT

(Detroit Free Press)

THE Oregon Legislature has passed a bill which would open welfare rolls to public inspection. The Governor has indicated he will sign it, which would make Oregon the 19th state to end relief secrecy.

This action, plus the recent favorable vote by the Ohio Senate on a similar measure, should give heart to Michigan legislators who still are undecided whether the people should be trusted with information on how more than $100 million annually in tax money is spent by public employees for welfare purposes in this State.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

(Christian Science Monitor)

Of course! Naturally! Teacher would have said No with a capital N. If little Jacob, a score of years ago, had offered to settle for five big red apples instead of covering the blackboard with, "I shall keep my eyes on my own paper." That's just what she would have done. And little Jacob's education would have been the better for that firm No.

But what happens now when roles are reversed. Teacher comes before Magistrate Jake Smith of Chesapeake, Ohio, once her pupil, on a traffic charge and pleads guilty. His Honor gives her the choice: Five dollars fine or write 200 times, "I shall not cross the yellow line." And she pays the five dollars!

Teacher, teacher, somehow you've let all of us graduate small-fry down!

Power With Words

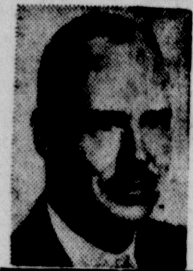

By Dr. C. E. Funk

See if you can supply the most fitting word of the three that follow each of these questions or statements. The test may cause you to think. Mark your selections.

- 1.—If a man feels rancorous, is he: (a) ill-smelling (b) diseased (c) ill-disposed?
- 2.—A coin of India is a: (a) rupee (b) scruple (c) ruble.
- 3.—A roustabout is a: (a) laborer (b) jacket (c) song.

- 5.—The opposite of nebulous is: (a) lucid (b) obscure (c) opaque.
- 6.—What is the meaning of coercion: (a) embrace (b) unite (c) compel?

ANSWERS

- 1.—Rancorous (RANG-kur-us) means full of spite; hence, (c) ill-disposed.
- 2.—A scruple is a coin of ancient Rome; a ruble is a Russian coin, but (a) the rupee (roo-PEE) is a coin of India.
- 3.—A roustabout (ROUS-tuh-BOUT) is a laborer.
- 4.—Douse is Scottish for sedate; deuce is a two-spot; but (c) douse, perhaps a combination of "down" and "douse," is to plunge into water.
- 5.—Nebulous (NEB-yu-lus), from Latin nebula, a mist, means hazy; its opposite is clear or (a) lucid.
- 6.—Coercion (co-URSS) is from Latin coerceo, press together; hence (c) compel.

The Doctor Says... Basal Metabolism Test Aids Diagnosis, Is Nothing To Fear

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

One of the most common special tests used in medicine today is the basal metabolism test. This column receives many questions concerning it from people who still seem a little nervous about taking the test. Its principal purpose is as an aid in studying the action of one of the glands of internal secretion known as the thyroid gland, which lies at the base of the neck.

The metabolism test is simple enough for the patient. After a good night's sleep one goes to the doctor's office, laboratory or hospital without eating any breakfast or drinking anything. Then one lies down on a bed or cot and breathes normally through a tube. What is breathed in and out is measured and recorded. There is no danger of suffocating as some nervous people seem to fear. It is not hard on the heart, as Mrs. C. M. has asked.

The calculations are made afterward. The patient's height and weight must also be known. These figures are put together in a formula and the final calculation tells whether one is burning the body tissues too fast, too slowly, or about right. When the doctor gives the results he says the metabolism was plus or minus some figure.

The basal metabolism is only one method of testing for the activity of the thyroid gland or the presence of toxic goiter.

Ordinarily, a figure for the basal metabolism between minus 15 and plus 15 is considered about normal and as a general rule means that the body is burning its fuel about right. If the metabolism is much more than plus 15 one is probably using up food and tissues too fast and this may explain nervousness and loss of weight.

Most likely this is the result of a toxic goiter and medical or surgical treatment may be needed.

UNDERACTIVE GLAND

Sometimes the metabolism may be far below the usual range. This does not always mean that the thyroid gland is underactive and that one must take thyroid extract to make up the deficiency. But a low rate can mean this and sometimes people feel enormously better if they get the needed boost from thyroid extract.

The basal metabolism test has been of great help in making diagnoses and deciding how to treat those in whom the results are out of line.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most people don't know it, but the art of fooling the public has now become a major industry. Millions of dollars are paid to public-relations firms to fool the public into thinking that the public has made up its mind on certain questions, when, as a matter of fact, the public-relations firm has made up the public's mind for it.

Here are two illustrations of this fooling-the-public racket just come to light.

One is the manner in which certain women's club leaders were paid off and civic associations were formed by Carl Bvoir and Associates on behalf of the railroads to combat the trucking industry.

The other is a secret memo by the same Carl Bvoir to Craig Sheaffer, now Assistant Secretary of Commerce, aimed at fooling the public into accepting a national sales tax.

Sheaffer, head of the fountain-pen company by that name, is the same man who kicked up a national furor by firing the director of the Bureau of Standards because he was allegedly unfair to auto-battery pepper-ups. Sheaffer's background seems to fit into the Carl Bvoir technique of fooling the public. He was a heavy contributor to rabble-rousers Merwin K. Hart and Upton Close; once became indignant at the way one of his pens was tested by the Bureau of Standards.

Bvoir, incidentally, is the same man exposed by a congressional committee as having received $6,000 a month as a public-relations representative for the Nazi government before Pearl Harbor. This deal was arranged by George Sylvester Viereck who later went to jail for failure to register as a Hitler agent.

HIGH-SOUNDING TAX STUDY

The manner in which the unsuspecting public is fed publicity under the high-sounding name of some civic organization is illustrated by Bvoir's organization of "The New Jersey Citizens Tax Study Foundation."

The average taxpayer would consider this a most worthy cause, dedicated to helping him lower his taxes. However, a study of the backstage facts shows that the tax study foundation was actually organized at the time Carl Bvoir was launching his New Jersey battle of the railroads against the truckers.

Furthermore, one of the incorporators of this supposedly impartial citizens tax study foundation was C. Colburn Hardy, the man in charge of Bvoir's public-relations campaign for the railroads in New Jersey.

Also, court records reveal a long list of checks paid by the Bvoir firm to Fred W. Goodwin, executive director of the supposedly neutral tax foundation. These payments during the latter part of 1951 and 1952 totaled $3,700.58. In addition, two checks totaling $300 were paid to the tax foundation by the Bvoir firm direct.

Finally a memo written by Bvoir's chief public relations operator in New Jersey to other members of Bvoir's staff during the trucks vs. railroads battle, reads: "We are also assisting in the formation of a new group: New Jersey Citizens Tax Study Foundation—all literature, etc., from this group must be on plain paper and mailed from New Jersey."

Some of the eastern railroad executives who got eueched into this public-relations campaign are not happy about it, say it was not fully explained to them.

PHONY SALES TAX PROPAGANDA

Carl Bvoir's latest plan for fooling the public, this time regarding taxes, proposes to make dupe of radio and TV panels, university discussion forums, etc., in order to put across a national sales tax. This secret Bvoir memo, dug up by the Madison (Wis.) Capital Times and written for the benefit of the new assistant secretary of commerce, Mr. Sheaffer, adopted the same technique of using civic organizations as fronts to fool the public.

"Initial impetus" for the national sales tax," says the Bvoir memo, "would have to come from a trade association, civic group, or by some 'name' spokesmen demanding such a tax."

"It will be necessary first to create an event which will develop news items on the subject."

"Another method," continues the Bvoir recommendation to the now assistant secretary of commerce, "would be a special one or two-day institute on the sales tax question held under the auspices of a business administration of a leading college. New York University through its society of business advisory professors, Columbia University through its Arden-Harriman symposiums; Cornell, Northwestern, and many other colleges organize such sessions. They provide a good public relations vehicle for launching a point of view."

Switching to the use of unsuspecting TV and radio programs, Bvoir recommended:

"A good springboard is to originate a town meeting of the air (radio) for some place where an audience is available, such as a local Chamber of Commerce meeting. The fee for such organizations amounts to about $1,500 and the topic selected is generally the one the home group selects, for the Mitac account."

The above strategy for concealed propaganda gives some indication of what the unsuspecting, sometimes gullible Mr. John Q. Public is up against when he tries to make up his mind on public issues.

Into The Past

Massacre At Lari:

To Gestapo And OGPU, Add Kenya Colony's Mau Mau

By DUDLEY A. HAWKINS
NAIROBI, Kenya (NEA)—To Oradour, France, and Katyn Forest, Poland, add the name Lari, Kenya.

To the Gestapo and the OGPU add Mau Mau—and put the Mau Mau in front by a mile.

I have just come back from Lari, back from underneath the wheeling vultures. I have stumbled among charred bones and smashed skulls in the still-smoking rubble of what was once an African settlement.

Squeamish? If you are not I will tell you a story as black as any in the black history of primitive Africa. This is an event that might even have made Heinrich Himmler sick. It is definitely the worst of the Mau Mau outrages.

Lari is — delete is, substitute was — a pleasant place, a typical ridge settlement of the Kikuyu tribe. In Kikuyuland there are no real villages. Each family or clan occupies a lot of mountain country with pastureland bordered by forest.

Each sub-unit of the family, according to its size, builds its huts near its own fields, where the thousands of goats and cattle graze. Each settlement of huts, perhaps only three, perhaps as many as 30 is surrounded by patches of corn and potatoes.

The Lari ridge is seven miles long, a few miles from the Equator, 8000 feet above sea level.

Lari is loyal. Three hundred young men on the ridge had formed themselves into a "home-guard" equipped with spears and bows and arrows to aid the Government in the fight against the terrorists. Their old chief Luka, protected by a faithful and vigilant bodyguard when he left his location, had already dodged or repulsed three attempts to take his life.

If the people of Lari had any other worry it was the failure of the rains. The pastures were looking dry and the corn was stunted.

So on Thursday evening, March 26, as a tropical moon smiled serenely on Lari, the old men, the women and their chubby little children went to sleep. Their men folk were on patrol guarding the forest approaches.

But at 8:30 p. m. a fire spread to life at the far end of the ridge. That was a diversion to attract the homeguard. At the other end of the ridge, 100 Mau Maus crept silently through the maize fields. They carried timber and nails.

Selecting houses earmarked the previous day, doors were barred with timber.

Then came the "firemen." To the drought-dry that they applied firebrands. The women and children had two alternative deaths, to die in their blazing homes or to be hacked to pieces as they tried to escape through the windows.

Some chose one way, some another.

As frightened women threw their children to safety they were caught by the Mau Mau, on their spears or decapitated by pangas.

Some terrorists sat to drink the blood of slaughtered children.

"Dante could not have even imagined such a scene. As the homeguards came pell mell across from the forest the terrorists fled, leaving behind a blazing pyre of dismembered bodies. And striking at other settlements along the moon-lit ridge the whole bestial massacre was repeated.

When I went to Lari the stench of death was on the land, vultures in the sky. I spoke to the survivors, watched the grim task of identification. A count was made of 121 bodies.

Wounded were crawling in from the forest where, like ani-

Good Evening...

NO PLAYGROUND—The Easter vacation for school children gave the Chicago & North Western Railroad crews in Escanaba a taste of what they can expect this coming summer—youngsters playing on the tracks and in the yards of the railroad. E. E. Schultz, special agent for the North Western, stopped in the other day to report that boys were playing in the railroad yards and that four switch lights had been broken.

"If you could write something about this, showing how dangerous it is for children to play around the railroad tracks, it might help," Schultz said.

As for those broken switch lights, said Schultz, to have even one of them out of order for even a few hours could mean an accident within the yards—and possible injury or death to some member of a train crew.

HAVING "FUN"—Parents should impress upon their offspring the necessity to play it safe while having fun. And no child can be safe while playing on the railroad tracks.

In one recent year alone, 82 youngsters under the age of 14 were killed as the result of playing on railroad property. These children had their brief fun, but they are not alive to enjoy taking chances again anywhere.

Railroads are always fascinating places to play—balancing on the rails, walking bridges, watching the trains go by, listening to the rumble of approaching trains by placing one ear to the rail.

But all of this is dangerous fun. Life and death are in the balance.

GAME OF CHANCE—The Association of American Railroads has issued a booklet on safety which it distributes to schools. Schultz gave us a copy and you will be interested in the following excerpts:

"Railroads work constantly to maintain safety in operation. They have spent a great many millions of dollars to make train travel and all railroad operations safe.

"They don't want anyone to be hurt; they don't want any accidents to happen. And of course, railroad workers have children of their own—maybe there are even some in this class—and certainly they don't want any harm to come to any boy or girl, at any time."

The booklet further points out the many dangers encountered by children when they play on railroad property.

"Take, for instance, the four who played what they called a 'game' of seeing who could stay in front of and on-coming train the longest. The one who did was the winner; but would it be worth while to be the winner of a such a 'game' if it meant losing a leg, or an arm, or maybe your eyesight?"

TRAINS CAN'T DODGE—Even grown-ups, who should know better, play dangerous games at railroad crossings.

Motorists will approach a crossing at a rapid clip and then depend on their speed, or the holding power of their brakes, to save them from disaster. They can dodge and swerve—but not the railroad locomotive.

Pedestrians, too, have the habit of cutting across the tracks—taking a short cut to possible death.

"Trains travel fast" and engineers just don't expect to find people stepping out in front of their trains at odd places."

OF BAD HABITS—There are a number of chances people take in trespassing on railroad property that should be so obviously dangerous that people would not take them. But they do nonetheless.

Look both ways before crossing a track sounds like old stuff, yet many people are killed because they do not take that precaution.

Both children and adults will sometimes try to cross a track on which a train is standing by crawling under, or climbing over, the cars. No train is designed to stand still or it would not be on wheels. What if the train should start suddenly, unexpectedly, while you are under it?

Youngsters with guns sometimes shoot at passing trains, or throw stones, or use a sling shot and aim at the windows. Passengers have been blinded by flying glass resulting from such thoughtless acts.

Placing obstructions on the tracks is another criminally careless act that has resulted in death to trainmen and passengers. The best advice for children is to play on playgrounds—and never on the railroads.

She Keeps The Secretary Of State In Mysteries

MRS. JOHN FOSTER DULLES: She's lost count of crossings.

By PATTI SIMMONS
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Anytime President Eisenhower wants to switch his reading tastes from western yarns to 25-cent mystery thrillers he can start borrowing from the chiller expert in his own cabinet—John Foster Dulles.
In this case, however, thanks for the service would have to go to the dignified, gray-haired spouse of the Secretary of State who admits one of her wifely jobs is keeping Foster supplied with fresh who-dun-its. What with 300,000 air miles to their credit in the last two years alone, it would be difficult to count how many pocket mysteries the Secretary has polished off while winging his way to international conferences.
"I know we made four trips to Japan and back on the Japanese treaty," recalls Janet Dulles. While her husband reads on those long hops, she devours cross word puzzles.
Since the San Francisco Conference in the spring of 1944, where her husband served as the Republican party's official observer, it seems to Mrs. Dulles that they have been constantly on the go.

Mrs. Dulles, who received part of her education in Paris, has lost count of the times she's crossed the ocean, and it sometimes seems to her that she has spent half her life opening and closing houses.
Mr. and Mrs. Dulles were District of Columbia dwellers first during World War I when Foster wore a major's uniform; again when he held down the post of interim senator in 1949, and a third time during Japanese Peace Treaty negotiations.
Mrs. Dulles is launching her career as cabinet hostess with a new cook, butler, maid and social secretary. The latter, pert, pretty Miss Eleanor Lansing Thomas, will probably be called upon to do everything "from filling in at dinner parties to shopping for ash cans," Mrs. Dulles says.

The new Secretary and his wife, like the Dean Achesons, will do most of their official entertaining in government-owned Blair or Anderson houses.
But there will be small dinners in their whitened red-brick provincial residence perched on the edge of Rock Creek park.
The library, according to Mrs. Dulles, is what sold them the house. It has a private entrance from the outside, and the Secretary's big desk and comfortable chair are next to a sunny window overlooking Rock Creek. A handsome Chinese lacquered screen camouflages a TV set on the other side of the room.
"I hate the thing staring at me in the face," says Mrs. Dulles, who takes cooking by an oil lamp over a bottled gas stove right in stride. That's a part of her life at Duck Island, a private island in Lake Ontario.
With no one but themselves on this 1000-acre retreat, the official couple, who have been fed by important people all over the world, hug firewood to feed their pot-bellied stove and even after a hard day of hunting, fishing and bird-watching, bustle up their own chow as well as polish off the dishwashing. Mrs. Dulles may take to the sidelines in the hunting department, but not so her husband with the dishwashing.
An outdoor enthusiast of no small talents, it wasn't too long ago that Mrs. Dulles handed over her ski boots, riding boots and tennis racket to a good cause rummage collector. But he didn't get the golf clubs.

As for the fishing tackle, all you have to do is bait the wife of the Secretary of State with a question about the black bass on Duck Island and you've got the answer.

Scientists painted grasshoppers in bright colors, and released them, to check on their migratory flights. They were picked up in ten states, hundreds of miles away.

Soo Faces Loss Of Weekend Trains
SAULT STE. MARIE—The Sault faces the loss of Saturday and Sunday train service, the City Commission was informed on Monday night.
C. A. Paquin, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, said the Soo Line plans to apply informally to the Michigan Public Service Commission to discontinue Trains No. 7 and 8 on Saturday and Sunday. No. 8 is the incoming train from Minneapolis and No. 7 is the outgoing train, it was reported. The train is the only one into the Sault, it was pointed out. The Soo Line claims it can save $104,000 per year by the changes, Paquin said.

An informal hearing will be held in the Sault April 37 on the proposal, Paquin said, with Public Service Commissioner Maurice Hunt, former mayor of the Sault, conducting the hearing.
It is believed, Paquin said, that the Soo Line could drop Sunday service without MPSC permission. Postmaster Mary A. Ripley said that the proposal would "seriously hamper" mail movement to the city. It would result in delays in delivery of both parcel post and first class mail, and result in a double load on Monday. This would require additional help and the additional cost might have to be defrayed by closing the post office Saturday, she said.
Mayor James Robertson suggested that the Sault oppose the proposal because the city and area "are on the way up, and if anything, we want better train service."
The commission voted to oppose the Soo Line's proposal.

Refugee Makes Millions In U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Leon Jolson arrived in this country in 1947 with only a few worldly possessions: his memories of a Nazi concentration camp, $6 in cash, and a will to succeed in the new world.

Yesterday Jolson, an American citizen for a year and president of a multimillion-dollar firm, set up a $250,000 foundation "to promote better understanding between all races, creeds and nationalities on the community level."

The foundation was the latest milestone in Jolson's success story, a story that started with Jolson and his wife living on $90 a month provided them by a welfare agency after arrival here from their native Poland.

Jolson soon earned his first money here repairing sewing machines in the garment district. Then he opened a small store, selling second-hand sewing machines.

He saved his money and imported four Nechi sewing machines from Italy. They caught on, and Jolson set up the Nechi Sewing Machines Sales Corp. This firm now assembles its own machines here, using some parts from Italy, and has a network of 1,630 dealers.

Drafting Of Boys MSC Head Says

EAST LANSING (AP)—By the end of 1955, the United States will have to draft every youth as he reaches 18½ years of age if it intends to maintain its military force, John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, said last night.

Hannah, president of Michigan State College, addressed an MSC alumni dinner for the Michigan Legislature.

Pool Dwindles
"We started drafting men at the 25-year level," Hannah said, "and now we are down to the 19-year-olds. We are using men faster than they turn 18½. By the end of 1955 the manpower pool will be gone."

"If we have to maintain a military force of 3,500,000 to 3,750,000 men we will have to take every boy as he turns 18½, Hannah said.

"Someday the generals and the admirals are not going to be able to decide the size of any army we must have. That is an added incentive for the administration to make efficient use of its manpower and the generals and the admirals are going to give good support to that."

Danger Far Ahead
Hannah said the "worst thing that could happen" if the Korean war ends would be a "great public clamor like after V-J day" for drastic disarmament.

"I am sure the American people are far ahead of their government in this as in many things," Hannah said. "I am sure they recognize we have embarked on a long conflict. We have no alternative as long as the Russians intend world domination."

He warned the nation must be ready to repel attack no matter when or where it comes and he said it may not come for 10 or 15 years.

Allied Prisoners Near Freedom

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U. N. command will tell the Communists tomorrow whether it is ready to resume the long-stalled Korean armistice negotiations—and it is expected to say "yes."

The U. N. late tonight asked for a meeting to deliver a letter answering repeated Red requests to get the talks under way again. Negotiations were indefinitely suspended by the U. N. last Oct. 8.

The request came only a few hours after the first group of Allied sick and wounded from North Korea stockades arrived at Kaesong—just six miles from freedom.

Communist staff officers said half of the first 100 POWs to be exchanged Monday at Panmunjom are non-Koreans. U. N. officials were hopeful as many as 50 Americans will be freed. The Communists have promised that 120 Americans will be among 600 U. N. prisoners returned.

Young Wife Saves 5; Gets Badly Burned

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—A 14-year-old married girl who tossed five screaming youngsters to safety from the second floor of a burning house before she leaped from a window was in critical condition today from burns suffered in her life-saving exploit.

Mrs. Margaret Ross, wife of a sailor stationed at Norfolk, was at a local hospital, where attendants said they were surprised she had survived so long with third degree burns.

Two little girls—Delores Anne Baker, 3, and Shirley Anne Bowne, 6, were burned fatally in the early-morning blaze that destroyed a six-room home yesterday at nearby Buclroe Beach.

But five other children ranging in age from 8 months to 9 years, were alive because of Mrs. Ross. Four of the children were hospitalized with burns, but none was in critical condition.

Cleveland J. Baker Jr., father of four of the children, caught the children as Mrs. Ross, who had climbed the already-burning stairway, tossed them out.

Kremlin Invited By Eisenhower To Help Bring Peace

armistice" in Korea, followed by political discussions leading to "free elections in a United Korea."

2. An end to Red aggression in Indochina and Malaya.

3. Completion of an Austrian peace treaty.

4. Unification of Germany.

5. Creation of a European community with "full independence of the East European nations."

Disarmament Next
With progress on these issues, Eisenhower said the U. S. would welcome agreements on reduction of armaments. He then declared: "This government is ready to ask its people to join with all nations in devoting a substantial percentage of the money saved by disarmament to a fund for world aid and reconstruction."

"The purpose of this great work would be to help other peoples to develop the undeveloped areas of the world to stimulate profitable and fair world trade, to assist all peoples to know the blessings of productive freedom."

He stated this five-point disarmament program:

1. Limitation, by fixed ceilings or by percentages, of the "military and security forces of all nations."

2. A pledge by all nations to limit production of strategic materials for military purposes.

3. International control of atomic energy for peaceful purposes "and to ensure prohibition of atomic weapons."

4. Limitation or prohibition of other weapons of "great destructiveness."

5. Enforcement of all these agreements by "adequate safeguards, including a practical system of inspection under the United Nations."

Answer To Malenkov
Eisenhower evidently designed his speech as America's answer to the Soviet peace offensive which began immediately after Stalin's death on March 5.

Soviet Premier Malenkov has said that all problems between Russia and the U. S. can be solved, and the Reds have made a number of peaceful gestures—including agreement on the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners in Korea starting next Monday.

Today Eisenhower pressed his question about what Russia is now prepared to do about achieving real peace. He asked:

"Is the new leadership of the Soviet Union prepared to use its decisive influence in the Communist world—including control of the flow of arms—to bring not merely an expedient truce in Korea but genuine peace in Asia?

"Is it prepared to allow other nations, including those of Eastern Europe, the free choice of their own forms of government and the right to associate freely with other nations in a worldwide community of law?"

People Want Peace
"If not—where then is the concrete evidence of the Soviet Union's concern for peace?"

His own proposals, the President declared, "spring—without ulterior purpose or political passion—from our calm conviction that the hunger for just peace is in the hearts of all peoples—those of Russia and of China no less than of our own country."

The President's proposal to use a percentage of armaments costs for peaceful purposes throughout the world contained no figures.

However, according to the Truman administration's budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, military spending will total about $51,200,000,000 aside from the bulk of the $10,500,000,000 foreign aid program which goes for armaments.

These figures show that, in the case of the U. S. alone, the diversion of a substantial percentage of its armament expenditures for world aid to the needy would run into billions of dollars.

BILLIONS WASTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is the cost of war?

President Eisenhower, in his speech today urging world disarmament and use of the money saved to combat want, put it this way:

"The cost of one modern heavy bomber is this: A modern brick school in more than 30 cities.

"Two electric power plants, each serving a town of 60,000 population.

"Two fine, fully equipped hospitals.

"Some 50 miles of concrete highway.

"We pay for a single fighter plane with a half million bushels of wheat.

"We pay for a single destroyer with new homes that could have housed more than 8,000 people."

An estimated 53 million bushels of corn in the United States was destroyed by the European Corn borer in 1952.

the full chambers of the two Houses.

At an earlier meeting of the bridge authority, Ziegler was the only boat advocate.

Roads Need Money
Ziegler insisted he was strictly neutral but advanced arguments for the present ferry system and indicated he was doubtful about having his department pay out $500,000 a year until the bridge bonds are paid off.

"I've never been opposed to a bridge or a tunnel," Ziegler said. "But I'm wondering, if something goes wrong, if they'll keep miking the highway department."

"It would be a good deal for you," George A. Osborn, publisher of the Sault Ste. Marie News and an authority member told Ziegler.

"You'd be saving money by paying $500,000 a year instead of continuing to invest in a ferry system that's losing money every year. There's a proposal for another $7,000,000 ferry coming up and unless we get a bridge there'll be another one after that."

In Tough Spot
"If you go along with us," Brown told Ziegler, "it will be very easy to convince the Legislature. If you buck us we're going to have a tough time. I'm frankly disturbed by your position."

Ziegler said it would be possible for his department to pay out up to $500,000 a year for up to 40 years.

"That adds up," he said, "And we have a $225,000,000 backlog of emergency highway work that needs to be done. I don't see how we're going to pay for a bridge and get those roads built."

"If you went along with us, people would give you credit for putting the bridge over," Brown said.

"They'd say," replied Ziegler, "what are you building a bridge for when you need highways?"

Brown told the legislators that the sale of the icebreaker Vacationland and the Mackinaw City docks to the railroads should pay for the upkeep costs of the bridge for 12 or 14 years.

B. J. Van Ingen, investment counselor for the authority, said the bridge bonds could "be sold within 30 days if the state shows faith by guaranteeing the upkeep."

"After four or five years of operation," he said, "you could refinance the bonds and eliminate the state guarantee entirely."

Nationalist Forces Win In South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Three chief opposition newspapers today conceded victory to Prime Minister Daniel Malan's nationalists in South Africa's general election—possibly with a doubled majority in Parliament.

With half the contested seats in yesterday's voting counted, Malan's forces had won 16 out of the 19 key seats they needed for an overall majority. Among these were eight captured from the opposition.

The Nationalists thus far have lost but one of their previously held seats to the opposition United Party led by J. G. N. Strauss.

More Americans Killed By Cars Than In Wars

NEW YORK—The nation's wars have killed close to 1,010,000 of its fighting men in the 178 years since the Battle of Lexington was fought on April 19, 1775. But the automobile is still continuing to prove a more relentless mass killer of Americans in U. S. highway accidents, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies said today.

Some 1,008,750 U. S. military deaths have occurred in all the wars in American history from the first battle of the Revolution through the Korean conflict to date, according to the latest compilation of the Association's continuing comparative study of war and traffic casualties.

At the 178th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord, which occurs next Sunday, the historic total of American military deaths in wars stands about 40,000 below the aggregate of nearly 1,050,000 deaths in all highway accidents since the first U. S. automobile fatality happened in New York City 53½ years ago.

Auto Great Killer

Nearly 15 months ago the historic fatality tolls of war and the automobile were both around the 1,005,000 mark, the Association said. Pointing out the far faster rate at which traffic deaths are occurring currently, even in a period of war, it added that while more than 5,000 U. S. battle deaths have occurred in Korea since February, 1952, when the two totals were even, about 45,000 men, women and children have been killed by automobiles in U. S. highway accidents.

The study shows that modern warfare on a global scale, as in World Wars I and II, has claimed American lives at annual rates between 80,000 and 90,000 during a large-scale conflict. This contrasts with a yearly average of 1,116 Continental soldiers lost in the American Revolution, or 93 monthly during the six years and six months before the nation's first war ended at Yorktown on September 19, 1781, with a total loss of 6,118 American lives.

American military deaths in World War I totaled 130,274; in World War II there were 325,264. The first global conflict killed U. S. fighting men at an annual rate of 82,250, averaging 6,850 monthly. In the second one the yearly rate of military deaths increased nearly 5,000 to 88,800, averaging 7,400 monthly for 45 months.

Traffic Deaths Increase

In the 34 months of the Korean war to date approximately 23,500 American soldiers have died. In the current conflict, military deaths have averaged 8,400 annually and 700 monthly, far below the fatality rates of the two previous wars.

While U. S. military deaths during World War II averaged only 5.7 percent higher than in World War I on an annual basis, the Association said, highway fatalities during the period of the second world conflict rose 279 percent over the yearly average of the war period a quarter century earlier. Since 1945 the annual traffic death toll has risen still another 165 percent, it added, or 445 percent above the 1917-18 average. Military deaths in the Korean War to date have averaged about 10 percent of the annual war fatality rates of the two world conflicts.

Thomas N. Boate, manager of the Association's accident prevention department, pointed out that World War I military losses were 12 times the concurrent automobile death toll in the 19-month period of that war. Traffic fatalities in 1917-18 averaged about 566 a month, or 6,800 a year. The ratio of World War II military deaths to highway fatalities during the 1941-45 war period was 3.4 to 1, about two-thirds lower than the World War I ratio. This reflected the 279 percent increase in the traffic death average annually Mr. Boate added, while the yearly war fatality average rose only 5.7 percent over the same quarter century. To date during the Korean war period, the nation's highway death toll has been far higher than that of war, he said, averaging 4.4 fatalities in highway accidents for every American soldier killed in Korea.

booklet, distributed with other pertinent material, gave what might be described as a school of instruction on the two subjects of his lecture.

Observing in his introduction that between 70 and 75 percent of the nation's wealth is owned by women, he emphasized the importance of factual information on the laws governing its future distribution.

Importance of Will

Declaring, "I cannot think of any reasons in most cases why there should not be a will," he opened his talk with a broad definition of a will and details of Michigan law governing it. He cited the disadvantages of not having a will and the advantages of having one, and followed the same procedure on the matter of joint ownership. He concluded the first part of his talk with a resume of the more common reasons for intestacy, in general, very human failings.

Continuing he explained in detail what are known as "Death Duties" and under the topic dealt with Michigan inheritance taxes and federal estate taxes.

Entering the subject of estate planning he emphasized the well known but often neglected truth, "The more experts you call in to aid you, the better it will be." In closing he gave a sincere and earnest admonition, "A few minutes taken by you and your husband to go into these matters and keep them up to date will pay dividends."

The informal question and answer period extended the usual Forum time considerably. Mr. Galloway answered important questions presented him in writing and devoted his time during the social hour to elaboration on these and answers to new problems set before him.

Introduction of Speaker

The second Forum speaker was introduced by William Warmington, president of the State Bank of Escanaba. Mr. Warmington who was in Detroit on urgent business at the Forum's opening, extended the greetings of the officers, directors and employees of the State Bank of Escanaba. He called attention to cards issued for attendance of men at the lecture which will be given April 29 by William B. Minehan, secretary of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, to the budget books which are available and urged those attending to take advantage of the question and answer period.

Assisting during the social hour during which coffee was served were Mrs. Warmington, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Marilyn Miron, Ebba Desmond, Barbara Viaw, Mrs. Harry Gruber and Miss Ethel R. Gilmore.

It All Goes Together ---

Agreement between the UN and the Communist enemy in Korea on prisoner exchange may lead to step-by-step progress toward general peace in the Far East. Illustrated below are the chief problems involved in any broad settlement with Peking. Thorneist one is, of course, the future political status of Korea—whether it be united or divided—and if the latter—how.

Exchange of sick and wounded POW's will prepare ground for exchange of all prisoners. With the POW problem solved, the way will be clear to negotiate a complete truce. Washington denies reports it will settle for a Korea divided as above, but reports persist.

In U.S. China war is regarded as Number Two problem. May be part of Korean truce. U.S. status presents a knotty problem. Also Formosa's status. United Nations' Red China must be settled after Asian formula is obtained.

WARNING to HOUSEWIVES

Reports coming to the National Better Business Bureau indicate that many women are being terribly upset by men selling cooking utensils house-to-house, who are telling them that the aluminum cooking utensils in their homes are bad for their health and should be thrown away.

These salesmen even make misleading boiling tests to show an apparently clouded condition of water boiled in aluminum.

The National Better Business Bureau states that these rumors being spread and these tricky tests are entirely false and misleading. Prominent health authorities, including the United States Public Health Service, state that there is absolutely no truth whatsoever in them. The Federal Trade Commission has branded such statements as false and its findings have been sustained by the courts.

So, ladies, be warned. Don't throw away your aluminum cooking utensils on the advice of some salesman who tries to interest you in some competitive cooking utensils. Aluminum cooking utensils are entirely safe and if you have the slightest doubt—ask your family physician or your local health department.

Any housewife who encounters this type of misrepresentation is urged to obtain the name of the salesman and the company he represents, and forward it to the address below.

We have a booklet "The Safety of Aluminum Cooking Utensils", which will be sent free on request.

Father Hofmann Of Hermansville Marks Anniversary

HERMANVILLE — Fifteen priests of the Menominee Diocese and surrounding areas, and many friends and parishioners attended the Solemn High Mass at St. Mary's Church, Tuesday at 11 a. m. in celebration of the 25th anniversary of Fr. Frederic Hofmann's Ordination to the Priesthood.

Fr. Hofmann, in special anniversary vestments, was celebrant of the Mass. His brother, Rev. Genneth Hofmann of Chicago, was deacon, and Fr. MacCarthy of Menominee, was Sub-Deacon. The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Schaefer of Menominee, a close friend of Fr. Hofmann.

After the Mass, the visiting clergy were served dinner at the Rectory. Due to his absence from the Diocese for two weeks, Bishop Noa was unable to attend.

Program of Music

The altars were beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mrs. L. T. Doran, organist, played a series of organ melodies before the Mass. The alto and soprano section of the choir sang the Kyrie from "Missa Regina Pacis" by Yon, and the four part mixed choir sang the Gloria, Credo, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei from the "Jubilee Mass" by Marsh. They also sang a special arrangement of "Sweet Name Which Makes the Dying Live", a favorite hymn of Fr. Hofmann.

Fr. Hofmann was ordained at St. Mary's of the Lake, Mundelein, Ill., April 14, 1928, by the late George Cardinal Mundelein. He celebrated his first Mass April 15, 1928 at St. Gertrude's Church, Chicago. Ordained for the Chicago Archdiocese, he was appointed Assistant at St. Bride's and then St. Barnabas Church. In October, 1939, he came to Marquette Diocese, his first assignment being assistant at St. Sebastian Church, Bessemer. His later parishes were St. Mary's, Wakefield; St. Gregory's, Newberry; Holy Rosary, Grand Marais (Mission); St. John's, Marquette; St. Mary's, Rockford; St. Ann's, Chassell; St. Anthony's Gwinn; and St. Stephen's, Loretto with Faithorn and Guinness as Missions. In December 1951 he was appointed pastor at Hermansville.

Mass For Mother

His brother, Fr. Kenneth Hofmann, arrived in Hermansville April 13. He was ordained in 1936, also by George Cardinal Mundelein, and now headquarters at the Arch-Diocese Mission Band, Chicago. His mother, Mrs. Fred F. (Theresa) Hofmann, resides at Chicago, as does his brother Robert and a sister, Mrs. Luke Francis Cuniff.

The two brother priests left for Chicago today. Fr. Hofmann intoned his Anniversary Mass for his mother and other members of the family at the Mission House.

CROWNING GLORY — Crowns intended as decorations during Queen Elizabeth's coronation ceremonies in June, are given a brightening up by Joan Bellis. The crowns are made in a factory in London's Old Kent Road section that has catered to six coronations so far, with Elizabeth's making the seventh.

City Faction Takes Over Berrien Board

ST. JOSEPH (P) — City representatives have taken over control of the Merriem County Board of Supervisors after 30 years of rural domination.

The two groups long have feuded over a variety of issues but principally over relative property values and taxes in urban vs. rural areas.

Two years ago the city faction won a majority on the board only to be stymied in its attempt to bring in professional property appraisers. Alfred Bartz, then chairman of the board, ruled that a motion aimed at accomplishing that purpose failed to get what he said was a required two-thirds majority. An appeal on that ruling has gone to the State Supreme Court.

Frank Small of St. Joseph was elected chairman of the board yesterday to succeed Bartz. He defeated the rural candidate, Herman Gnodtke, by a narrow 24-23 vote.

and was a gift from him to the late George Cardinal Mundelein for the Chicago Archdiocese.

Fr. Hofmann will return Friday, April 17.

Old Seeing-Eye Dog Gets Seeing-Eye Dog

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A Seeing-Eye dog who went blind after 12 years and the master he served now share a new Seeing-Eye dog together.

For those 12 years Felix Chester and Charlie, a German shepherd, were inseparable.

Two years ago a veterinarian told Chester that Charlie was going blind, and also had developed a bad heart.

So Chester remained close to home and Charlie sat with him, weebegone and restless.

Then Chester got Howdy, a 4-year-old boxer from the Seeing-Eye Dog Foundation.

Now Howdy not only guides Chester on daily trips to town but also is an escort for Charlie.

The three walk together, Charlie close to his master's side on a leash, Howdy a step ahead in a regular Seeing-Eye harness.

and they are asking the cooperation and help of every citizen in the community in the project.

All interested persons are invited to attend future meetings in connection with the venture.

An executive committee was selected and this is composed of Dick Ducheneay, chairman; Mary Beth Cannon, secretary, and Ed Farrell, Wayne Cassell, Tom Brewer, Bob Sandstrom, Mary Beth Hult, Joanne Morgan, Jim Sundalius, Jeanette Krout, Nancy Holmberg and Beverly Timler.

Committee chairmen named include Jim Sundalius, building and site; Beverly Timler, fund raising; Mary Beth Hult, constitution, and Ed Farrell, publicity.

Tankers Bring Gas To Bulk Terminal

Nearly 2½ million gallons of gasoline and a half million gallons of fuel oil were brought to the Thiesen-Clemens terminal at Kipp during the past week by the tankers Polaris and Meteor, the first boats to enter the upper bay this year.

Gasoline gallonage hit 2,355,939 while 466,454 gallons of fuel oil were put in storage at the bulk plant.

SHRINKING 'BUCK' MAKES COMEBACK — The purchasing power of the consumer's dollar which dipped to an all-time low of 55.2 cents during 1952, shows signs of making a comeback. It rose to 57.7 cents in February, 1953. Using 1939 as the base year, above Newschart shows the steady decline of the overall dollar's purchasing power. Only advance was in 1950, when the dollar was worth 66.1 cents. Chart also shows how far your dollar will go toward purchasing six different items this year, and compares it with last year's commodity dollars. Data from the National Industrial Conference Board.

Cancer Fund Drive Started

The annual drive for funds for the American Cancer Society will get under way in Gladstone on Monday with Fred Hoover, well-known retired Soo Line conductor, spear-heading the work as chairman.

Gladstone's quota has been set at $600.

Half of the funds received locally are retained in Delta county for support of the local program.

No house to house canvass will be made this year. Chairman Hoover states, but business places and industries will be contacted for contributions.

Coin collection boxes where contributions may be made and in return the contributors receive matches for their donations, are to be placed in various business places in Gladstone.

Several places also will be designated where donations may be made. These will be announced later.

Donations are used by the cancer society in a three-fold program: research, education and service to patients.

Bill Gordon's "Partner" ...

Your grocer, Bill Gordon, has a "partner" who is very valuable to him, and Bill's business would suffer if his "partner" ever failed him. It never has. You see, Bill's partner is his daily newspaper. It brings him news . . . it tells his customers about the food and bargains he has for them. His daily newspaper lets him know, in a brief but thorough manner, what his customers are thinking . . . saying . . . doing. It serves him in many other ways, too. In bringing Bill Gordon the news of his community, nation and the world, his newspaper doesn't do a helter-skelter job. It sifts and refines the news so he won't have to do it himself. It brings him information by leaders in every field . . . it tells him who won the ball game. In its editorial columns it discusses problems, exposes wrongs and works for him and his community every day in the year.

Yes, Bill Gordon's daily newspaper is all important to him — it's all important to you too.

Eskymo Baseball Team Loses Five Regulars; 38 Candidates Report

The old baseball axiom that strength down the middle is paramount to a successful team is confronting Coach Jim Rouman of the Escanaba High School team. Rouman has piloted the Escanaba baseball team to 22 victories in its last 23 starts. The record, best in Upper Peninsula high school ranks, includes seven straight victories in 1951 and eight straight in 1952. In 1950 the Eskymos won seven while losing only one.

But getting back to this year's team, Coach Rouman is casting an anxious eye down the middle of the diamond. And he has good reason to be concerned.

Regulars Lost
Lost from last year's undefeated club are catcher Jo Johnston, pitcher Jack Christie, second baseman Francis Artley, shortstop Paul Gunderman and outfielder Paul Baldwin. That just about takes care of the important baseball line.

However, this year's baseball call, issued this week, has resulted in one of the best turnouts since the Eskymos fielded their first team under Rouman in 1945.

Thirty-eight candidates have reported for practice, including seven lettermen. Returning lettermen are Fred Boddy, pitcher, John Peterson, Wes Hoes, and Paul Davidson, infielders, Charley Bellefeuil, Arnold Breitzman and Joe Larmay, outfielders. All are seniors except Larmay who is a junior.

14 Junior Out
Other seniors reporting for early indoor practice sessions are Bob Monson, Dick Weycker and Lewis Skoglund.

Fourteen other juniors out for the team are Arnold Lindquist, Richard Gardener, Don Sheppard,

Will Open April 30
"The large turnout this year gives us a good chance to find replacements for the regulars who graduated last year," Coach Rouman said this morning. "How well they will be able to fill the vacated positions remains to be seen."

The Eskymos have had only two limited workouts thus far so the Esby mentor has not yet had time to get a line on the newcomers. The squad will get outdoors as soon as possible and is tentatively scheduled to open the 1953 season with a home stand against Marquette on April 30. That means the players will have two weeks to round into playing condition.

A nine-game schedule is planned for the Eskymos, hinging of course on the weather. If possible, two games will be played with Stephenson, Gladstone, Marquette and Ishpeming and one game with St. Joe of Escanaba.

Russ Meyer Gives Dodgers Dividend

(By The Associated Press)

Russ Meyer has given the Brooklyn Dodgers the first dividend on the winter's biggest player trade. He set down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, on eight hits Wednesday to pull the Bums into a first place tie in the National League with the rain-aided Milwaukee Braves.

Meyer struck out seven Pirates, walked only one and didn't allow anybody to get as far as third base in eight of the nine innings. The only Pittsburgh run came on a two run homer by Johnny Lindell, the former New York Yankee outfielder who is trying a comeback as a knuckleball pitcher. Only three games were played in the major leagues Wednesday. The Philadelphia Phils whipped the New York Giants, 8-1, in the National League and the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-1, in the American League.

The St. Louis Cardinals were rained out at Milwaukee. So were the Cincinnati Redlegs at Chicago. Wet grounds and cold weather cancelled the Detroit at St. Louis and Washington at Boston encounters in the American League. Cleveland and Chicago in the American League weren't scheduled.

Baseball Experts Disagree On Stengel: Is He Lucky, Smart?

NEW YORK (NEA)—There is no doubt that at $80,000 a term, Charles Dillon Stengel should be the finest generalissimo in baseball if only because he is the best paid.

It's debatable, of course whether the Old Professor is actually the game's top manager, but there's no arguing about his record with the Yankees. Four straight World Championships! Only two other managers ever won four pennants in a row. The Giants John J. McGraw and Joe McCarthy with another group of Yankees. Only the latter matched Ol' Casey's feat of winning four consecutive World Series to go with his four pennants.

What's more, New York has been out of the first division a total of only 22 days since Stengel assumed command in 1949. Stengel's success leaves the big league experts split. The debatable points are whether he is smarter than most pilots, luckier than most, or is simply riding a tide. No one can say specifically what it is he does to beat the other side except get more runs.

About the only thing observers agree on is that Stengel is not a genius. "Casey doesn't do anything different," say White Sox Manager

Paul Richards. "He just makes a bigger act out of it," Richards paused briefly, then added, by way of reference to Ol' Casey's outside investments. "Of course, a manager can work with considerably more abandon if he owns several producing oil wells."

Rogers Hornsby thinks Stengel wins because he has no front-office interference.

"He knows the capabilities of his players and he's a good enough manager to improve them, and his front office doesn't get in his way," said The Rajah. "Front-office interference beat Cleveland last year."

Al Lopez believes much of Casey's success stems from his willingness to go along with untied rookies.

"Why ask about Stengel now?" asks Charley Dessen of the Dodgers. "He was a good manager 20 years ago."

Stengel's career has been one of violent fortunes and misfortunes. From 1925, when he started his managerial career at Worcester, Mass., in the Eastern League, until he came to the Yankees, Casey had won only three pennants in 23 years—at Toledo, Milwaukee and Cleveland.

Brooklyn paid him $18,000 in 1937 not to manage. Then wuz the days.

When Stengel took over the Dodgers in '34, his illustrious period as a player, and especially his team's knowledge of Casey's personality, suggested to some of them that he would be lenient with club rules infractions. He was—a point.

One restriction he imposed at once. "I don't want to catch any of you players leaving the hotel at midnight to post a letter," he said. "As long as the Brooklyn club is paying room rent we may as well get some use out of the rooms."

One day a player who had stepped out of bounds came to Casey with a fairly creditable alibi.

"No dice," said Stengel. "I told that to McGraw in 1922. Mac told me it would cost me 50 bucks. Times were better then, so it'll cost you only 25. If you had a new story you might have got away with it. But there ain't any new ones. I tried to dig one up for 20 years."

Stengel established something of a world record last season for managerial indecision by using a total of 99 different batting lineups. While the second-guessers shake their heads at such machinations, they can't prove the Old Professor doesn't know what he is doing.

"Four years, four pennants," points out Casey Stengel. "You want more proof?"

When Ferris Fain won the American League batting title last year he became the sixth to win the league crown two years in a row.

Togo Palazzi of Holy Cross was the only unanimous choice on the Notre Dame all-opponent basketball team of the recently concluded campaign.

Nine different players were seen at third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1952. Pete Castiglione saw the most action there, playing in 57 games.

Harry Flora visited here this week on his way to Marquette where he will serve as pro at the Marquette Golf and Country Club. He's been travelling through the midwest and south during the winter season. Irving Johnson will again serve as pro at the Riverside Club in Menominee. He spent the winter operating the ski area at Pine Mountain. And Eddie Ernst, Escanaba Golf Club pro, is expected to be on the job Monday, April 20.

Two Upper Peninsula boys are listed on the 1953 Michigan State College spring football roster. Senior right halfback Billy Wells of Menominee is among the early candidates. Wells is 21, weighs 175 and stands 5-9. Tom Taylor of Newberry is a center candidate. The former Indian fullback who played under Morley Fraser is a sophomore, weighs 190, stands 6-1 and is 19 years old.

Arlene Jerow, a member of Oberg's kegler team, turned in a unique bowling series the other night. She opened with a 114 game, bettered that with a 115 count in the middle and kept right on climbing with a 116 finale.

We were thinking the other day it's a good thing the Minneapolis Lakers knocked off the New York Knickerbockers in four straight for the National Basketball Association championship. More and more in recent months fans had been looking at professional basketball with a suspicious eye, and there were many who would bet that the final series would go the full seven games.

Their thinking was that club owners wouldn't be so foolish as to pass up a couple of three more big games. This is a suspicion fans have toward most sports nowadays. We'd say the Lakers did professional basketball, and other sports as well, a good service by getting down to business and finishing the final series in short order.

Windy Opener In Association

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The wind was ripping shingles off houses while the Minneapolis Millers and Kansas City Blues leaned into a 65-mile gale Wednesday and opened the American Association season.

Before the 17,250 fans had time to snuggle into overcoats, Pance Pless, Minneapolis third baseman skied a routine ball into center field. When the wind got through playing with it, the ball was over the rightfield wall.

Before Minneapolis was retired, the scorekeeper totaled up nine runs on Pless' homer, a triple by Clint Hartung, three singles and a pair of bases on balls.

After the Millers scored 11 runs in the first four innings, Kansas City shipped four homers over the wall via air express to tie the score.

Another prank of the capricious wind helped Minneapolis to a 13-12 win. Ziggy Zasinski, the Miller second baseman, tried to punt but popped up a Texas League single as the wind blew the ball over the heads of the infielders.

Roy Gauthier Manager Of Perronville Team

PERRONVILLE—Roy Gauthier was named manager of the Perronville city baseball team at a reorganizational meeting held here last night.

Lawrence Viau was elected president of the baseball club and John Bartoszek was named secretary-treasurer.

Perronville will return to action in the Tri County league this summer after a strong bid for championship honors last year. Most of the veterans of past seasons will be in the fold with a few new faces coming up, a spokesman for the team indicated.

Weather Cold But Tiger Game Slated

DETROIT (AP)—A cold drizzle fell on Briggs Stadium this morning but according to the latest reports the Detroit Tigers will make their scheduled 1953 debut here this afternoon against the Cleveland Indians.

The weather bureau said that the temperature sputtered in the mid-thirties at 8 a. m. and also forecast scattered snow flurries for this afternoon in Detroit and the vicinity.

Early risers were greeted by rain mixed with snow this morning.

Escanaba Cubs Begin Baseball Workouts

The Escanaba American Legion Junior baseball team opened practice under Coach Al Ness this week with the Cubs working out at the city diamond in anticipation of the approaching season.

Only three members of the youthful Cubs are candidates for high school baseball teams so there is little conflict on practice sessions.

Candidates for berths on the Cubs lineup are John Berrigan, Gary Paler and Ricky Erickson, pitchers, Gary Hirn, Dave Viau and Tony Kutches, outfielders, Al Erickson, catcher, and Cliff O'Donnell, Billy Goodreau, Bob Dubord and Frank Katrinski, infielders.

Wolverine Grid Coach In Quarterback Dilemma

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR (AP)—Roly-poly Ben Oosterbaan is facing a familiar problem.

The coach of Michigan's football forces wants to keep newspaper "pressure" off his top quarterback prospect.

Strictly a fringe problem in football circles, it is nonetheless one that bothers the big Dutchman.

When he talks about Louis Baldacci, Oosterbaan speaks in tones of doubt and assures the listener that the 200-pound sophomore from Akron, O., is "a candidate" for the vital job on Michigan's 1953 outfit.

"Will Have To Wait"

"We don't know what Baldacci can do," says Big Ben. "I like his looks. The other coaches are pleased with him. But we have to wait and see."

And then he adds, frankly, "I wish we could work him along and see what he can do before the papers talk too much about him."

However, two points stand out to the reporter:

1. Michigan is without a quarterback since the graduation of Ted 'Topor and the 1953 Wolverine hopes hang in no small measure on finding one.

2. Oosterbaan's assistants are most high on Baldacci, to the exclusion of other candidates.

The 19-year-old is the talk of the camp for his kicking and passing talent. It would be helpful to bury Ben to ignore the husky six-footer. But it's pretty difficult to do.

Strong In Line

The Wolverines appear strong in the line with five lettermen ends, the same number of tackles and four guards who won monograms as well as one letterman center and several good prospects.

Seven are experienced at both offense and defense with halfback Tony Branoff the chief two-way exponent in the backfield.

The expected change in tactics for Michigan's spring football practice.

Offensive specialists of 1952 will work chiefly on defense while the defensive men will concentrate on offense.

Will TV Grid Game To Coach On Bench

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Massillon High School's varsity-senior spring football game will be televised Friday night for a one-man audience—Coach Chuck Mather.

So he can keep better track of his boys, he'll have a television camera atop the press box shooting the contest, and the camera will be wired only to a 21-inch set in front of Mather on the bench. He's erased the old adage that "the coach has the poorest seat on the field."

The terrific Tigers are in quest of their sixth straight state scholastic championship. Chuck believes his one-man television show will help achieve that goal.

Women Set High Keg Standards

DETROIT (AP)—Some high standards were produced in the first week of the 36th Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament.

The 2931 posted Tuesday by B&B Chevrolet of Detroit is the second highest in WIBC history. The world champion Fanatoriums of Grand Rapids, Mich., dominated Wednesday's session after falling two pins shy of B&B in the team fight 24 hours earlier. They took over second, third and fifth in all-events and fourth in singles.

Marion Ladewig, four-time world singles champion, and Wylis Ryskamp of the Fanatoriums banged out 1115 to take the No. 1 spot in doubles.

Connie Powers of Detroit's Colonial Broach team hammered 2-221-142-598 to move into second place in the singles.

No New Leaders In ABC Keg Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—There were no changes Wednesday in the top ten in any division of the American Bowling Congress tournament. Heininger Motor Co. of Morton, Ill., posted the third highest game of the tournament, 1108, but settled for 2750 as the first two games were only 797 and 845.

New Chemical May Be Key To Leukemia

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Science Reporter

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Discovery of an "X" chemical which may be a key to leukemia, dread cancer of the blood, was reported today.

The "X" was described by Doctors Thomas F. Dougherty and Jules A. Frank of the University of Utah Medical School to science writers on a tour sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

It causes production of millions of white blood cells.

The white cells fight off invading germs, among other jobs.

Works With Hormone

It helps make up for a terrific loss of white cells caused by almost any kind of stress or shock. The stress can be cold, heat, fear, emotional upsets, allergies, infection. The stress makes your adrenal glands turn out more cortisone, a hormone that destroys white cells.

The hormone and "X" work together, like thermostat controls, to keep the number of white cells more or less in balance. Actually, your white blood cells do a roller-coaster ride and fall all through the day, with big dips when stress produces a jolt of cortisone.

Substance "X" brings a quick rise in white cells or lymphocytes, especially one kind. This kind is called the stress white cell. It is resistant to destruction by cortisone. Normal white cells are easily destroyed by cortisone.

There is a possibility that the stress cells stimulated by the "X" stuff might somehow change to become leukemic white cells, which also resist cortisone destruction. Leukemia means too many white cells, and overgrowth of blood-forming organs.

produced a leukemic-like condition in mice by subjecting them to repeated stress.

Something going haywire in humans because of repeated stress might lead to leukemia. Learning why leukemia occurs could lead to better controls of it.

It is not yet known what the "X" stuff is, or where it is made. It could be histamine, the chemical released when allergies strike; something like histamine; or one of a number of other things.

The studies promise a gauge of how well a patient with tuberculosis, rheumatoid arthritis, allergies, jaundice or other diseases is responding to drugs, or how sick he is. For by checking on the stress cells, and hormones in the blood, it can be learned which ones are overcoming the stress of sickness.
